University-Wide Qualifications for Participation in Graduate Education

Graduate education requires the participation of highly competent faculty who are willing to share their specialized skills and knowledge with graduate students. The following guidelines are intended to outline the credentials necessary for faculty to serve the many different roles they play in graduate education. As the university is committed to encouraging, facilitating, and rewarding interdisciplinary, multi-disciplinary, and cross-disciplinary educational and scholarly activities, service of faculty and staff members in more than one department, school, center/Institute, or college are encouraged as a way to further this objective.

- Section A establishes the role of the graduate program committees in the process of appointing Graduate Faculty and Graduate Faculty Scholars.
- Section B establishes the roles and qualifications for appointment as Graduate Faculty and Graduate Faculty Scholars.
- Section C establishes procedures for review, renewal and termination of appointments to the Graduate Faculty.
- Section D establishes responsibilities for the various members of dissertation advisory committees.

Programs may set higher qualification standards or additional requirements.

A.1: Graduate Program Committees

Each graduate program will be administered by a graduate program committee consisting of faculty members who participate in the program. An active graduate program committee is required for each graduate program in order to provide program oversight and to ensure that the qualifications of contributing individuals are appropriate for participation in graduate education. Graduate program committee members are appointed in accordance with established department/school procedures and the qualifications established in this document.

A.2: Qualifications for Serving on Graduate Program Committees

Faculty members who are tenured or tenure-earning and who are members of the Graduate Faculty may serve on graduate program committees. The graduate program director will be the chair of the graduate program committee. Only graduate program committee members with Full Graduate Faculty status may vote on appointments to the level of full graduate faculty.

B.1: The Graduate Faculty

The Graduate Faculty will comprise Full Graduate Faculty and Associate Graduate Faculty members as identified in the graduate catalog. The Graduate Faculty teach graduate courses, serve as members of thesis and dissertation committees, and serve as faculty advisors for thesis and dissertation students and chairs of student advisory committees. Only tenured, tenure-earning, and ranked faculty on multiyear agreements are eligible for appointment to the Graduate Faculty.

Appointment to the Graduate Faculty begins with a nomination by the graduate program committee that is relevant to the graduate education duties of the individual faculty member. The nomination must then be approved by the department chair/unit director for review and appointment by the Dean of the College of Graduate Studies. Qualified graduate faculty members may be eligible to serve in more than one graduate program. Graduate faculty members who are outside of a student's program are eligible to serve as external members of a thesis or dissertation advisory committee.

-Special nominations to the Graduate Faculty may be made at the discretion of the Dean of the College of Graduate Studies.

No graduate student at UCF may teach UCF graduate courses although they may assist with a graduate class where a graduate faculty member supervises the graduate student and the graduate faculty member is the instructor of record. However, this should only be done to further the professional development of the student as part of a Preparing Future Faculty program.

For the appointment of individuals in the process of obtaining a terminal degree, the College of Graduate Studies can certify that all requirements for a degree have been met.

B.2: Associate Graduate Faculty

Associate graduate faculty may teach graduate courses, serve as members and co-chairs of thesis and dissertation committees, and serve as chairs of master's thesis committees. All chairs and co-chairs must be approved by the graduate program committee of the student's program. The qualifications for appointment as Associate Graduate Faculty are:

- Possession of the terminal academic degree in the discipline, or a related discipline, in which they are teaching; or in a field related to the topic of the thesis or dissertation, if serving on a student advisory committee. ~~The faculty member must demonstrate a high level of competence in teaching and scholarship.~~ Substitution for the terminal degree may be granted with documented exceptional experience and scholarly or creative activity when recommended by the graduate program committee and approved by the department chair/unit director.
- The above are the most important qualifications for those who are only teaching graduate level courses. The faculty member must demonstrate a high level of competence in teaching.

Formatted: No bullets or numbering

Associate Graduate Faculty may be designated as “Teaching-Only” if their responsibilities will be restricted solely to teaching graduate courses.

For those serving on student advisory committees, either as members, co-chairs or chairs, further qualifications are:

- Evidence of current interest and involvement in scholarly research or creative productivity.
- Evidence of national or international recognition of scholarly research or creative productivity. Continuing scholarship and creative activity are evidenced and recognized through publications, presentations, performances, exhibits, awards and competitions. Other considerations include a continuing fulfillment of professional obligations through, for example, manuscript review, journal editorship, and national advisory and review panels.
- No personal or financial (including employment) arrangements that may pose a conflict of interest with a student on whose thesis or dissertation committee they serve.
- In disciplines where funding is essential to the success of the thesis or dissertation work, evidence of acquiring funds (and appropriate facilities) sufficient to support the research of graduate students is expected when supervising the student’s research as a chair or co-chair of a committee.
- Graduate program committees may specify additional guidelines for service as chair of master’s thesis advisory committees.

B.3: Full Graduate Faculty

Full graduate faculty may serve in any of the roles of associate graduate faculty, and, in addition, may serve as a chair of a doctoral advisory committee. All chairs and co-chairs must be approved by the graduate program committee of the student’s program. The qualifications are:

- Possession of the terminal academic degree in the discipline, or a related discipline, in which they are teaching; or in a field related to the topic of the thesis or dissertation if serving on a student advisory committee. ~~The faculty member must demonstrate a high level of competence in teaching and scholarship.~~ Substitution for the terminal degree may be granted with documented exceptional experience and scholarly or creative activity when recommended by the graduate program committee and approved by the department chair/unit director. The faculty member must demonstrate a high level of competence in teaching and scholarship.
- Evidence of current interest and involvement in scholarly research or creative productivity.
- Evidence of national or international recognition of scholarly research or creative productivity. Continuing scholarship and creative activity are evidenced and recognized through publications, presentations, performances, exhibits, awards and competitions. Other considerations include a continuing fulfillment of professional obligations through, for example, manuscript review, journal editorship, and national advisory and review panels.

- Previous experience in serving as a member or co-chair of a thesis or dissertation advisory committee is a prerequisite to serving as a chair of a doctoral dissertation advisory committee.
- No personal or financial (including employment) arrangements that may pose a conflict of interest with a student on whose thesis or dissertation committee they serve.
- In disciplines where funding is essential to the success of the thesis or dissertation work, evidence of acquiring funds (and appropriate facilities) sufficient to support the research of graduate students is expected when supervising the student’s research as a chair or co-chair of a committee.
- Graduate program committees may specify additional guidelines for service as chair of thesis or dissertation advisory committees.

B.4: Graduate Faculty Scholars

~~UCF courtesy appointees and o~~Other qualified individuals may serve as graduate faculty scholars in temporary graduate faculty roles confined to specific, well-defined graduate faculty assignments. Graduate faculty scholars play important roles in graduate education at UCF, but their status as graduate faculty scholars is distinct from that of the Graduate Faculty.

- Possession of the terminal academic degree in the discipline, or a related discipline, in which they are teaching, or in a field related to the topic of the thesis or dissertation if serving on a student advisory committee. They must demonstrate a high level of competence in teaching and scholarship. Substitution for the terminal degree may be granted with documented exceptional experience and scholarly or creative activity when recommended by the graduate program committee and approved by the department chair/unit director.

• The above are the most important qualifications for those who are only teaching graduate courses.

Formatted: No bullets or numbering

Graduate Faculty Scholars may be designated as “Teaching-Only” if their responsibilities will be restricted solely to teaching graduate courses.

Graduate faculty scholars may serve as members of thesis or dissertation committees for the purpose of bringing specific disciplinary knowledge to the committee. In instances deemed appropriate by the graduate program committee, graduate faculty scholars may also serve as co-chairs of thesis and dissertation committees, but may not serve as chairs of these committees. For those serving on student advisory committees, either as members or co-chairs, further qualifications are:

- Exceptional relevant experience and scholarly or creative productivity, as determined by the graduate program committee.
- No personal or financial (including employment) arrangements that may pose a conflict of interest with a student on whose thesis or dissertation committee they serve.
- In disciplines where funding is essential to the success of the thesis or dissertation work, evidence of acquiring funds (and appropriate facilities) sufficient to support the research of graduate students is expected when supervising the student's research as a co-chair of a committee.

It is expected that graduate faculty scholars will attend the various committee meetings associated with serving as a member of a thesis or dissertation committee and will have the means to be present at the final oral defense.

C.1: ~~Re-evaluation of~~ Graduate Faculty ReappointmentsStatus

Individual qualifications for serving as graduate faculty will be re-evaluated by the graduate Program Review Committee of the Graduate Council. Reappointment evaluations will be conducted at the time of the periodic university program review, or sooner, as deemed appropriate by the graduate program committee or at the request of the Dean of the College of Graduate Studies. At that time, individuals must re-submit their current credentials to the Program Review Committee of the Graduate Council ~~graduate program committee~~ if they wish to have their appointment renewed.

C.2: Guidelines for a Thesis or Dissertation Advisory Committee Member Who Leaves UCF

A dissertation advisory committee member who leaves UCF may be eligible to continue serving on the committee as a graduate faculty scholar with the approval of the graduate program committee.

C.3: Guidelines for a Thesis or Dissertation Advisory Committee Chair Who Leaves UCF

In the event that a chair of a thesis or dissertation advisory committee leaves the employ of the university:

1. With the approval of the graduate program committee, a chair of a thesis or dissertation advisory committee who leaves UCF may continue to serve as chair and supervise the thesis for one calendar year after leaving.
2. If one calendar year has passed since the faculty member left UCF and the advisee has not yet completed the degree requirements, the departed faculty member may continue to serve as co-chair of the thesis or dissertation advisory committee as a graduate faculty scholar, with approval of the graduate program committee; however, a new chair from the student's department (or college, if a college-wide program) shall be designated.

C.4.1: Faculty Emeriti

Emeritus graduate faculty members may continue to participate in graduate education as a Graduate Faculty Scholar, without the necessity of nomination. With the approval of the graduate program committee, they may continue to serve for a specified period of time as faculty advisors and chairs of committees established prior to emeritus status. Emeriti faculty may not chair additional student committees, but may continue to serve on thesis and dissertation committees as a member or co-chair for as long as they remain active with the institution.

C.4.2: Retired Faculty

Graduate faculty who retire will lose graduate faculty status unless they are nominated by a graduate program committee to continue as a Graduate Faculty Scholar. In this capacity they may continue service on advisory committees as a member or co-chair for a designated period of time, as approved by the graduate program committee.

D.1: Responsibilities of Members of Dissertation Advisory Committees

1. To meet at regular intervals at least once per year to: (i) discuss and approve the proposed dissertation research and the plans for carrying out research; and (ii) to assess progress towards the dissertation and give the student a yearly letter of evaluation in addition to S/U grades awarded for 7980 courses.
2. To review Turn-It-In.com results from dissertation submittals.
3. To participate in the candidacy and/or dissertation prospectus examination. The entire committee shall be present for the oral part of the examination and it shall be conducted on campus, unless there is an accepted arrangement that has been approved by the graduate program committee.
4. To participate in the dissertation defense to assure: (i) that the dissertation is acceptable as original research and a contribution to the discipline; and (ii) that it meets the standards of the University. No fewer than four faculty members, including all members of the advisory committee, shall be present with the student during the examination. Only members of the advisory committee may sign the dissertation, and a majority must approve of the dissertation. The dissertation defense must be conducted on campus, unless there is an accepted joint degree program with another university that specifies a different arrangement that has been approved by the university.

D.2: Responsibilities of the Chair (and co-Chair) of Dissertation Advisory Committees

1. In cooperation with the program director, to review the program of study, the research, and all other degree requirements by meeting with the student early in the program and immediately after appointment as chair/co-chair.
2. To suggest to the student possible committee members who could serve on the advisory committee. To establish timelines for the research, set expectations, and evaluate the student progress based upon these.
3. To meet at regular intervals with the student to discuss the proposed dissertation research and the plans for carrying out research.
4. To review in a timely manner all written materials submitted by students and offer suggested revisions.
5. To meet once per year with the student and the dissertation advisory committee to assess progress towards the dissertation and give the student a yearly letter of evaluation in addition to S/U grades awarded for 7980 courses. The chair shall write this letter and send it to the program director and the College of Graduate Studies after consultation with the advisory committee.
6. To coordinate the ongoing efforts of the committee as its chair, and to participate fully in the responsibilities of the committee members as a member of the advisory committee.

7. To chair the candidacy and/or dissertation prospectus examinations. The entire committee shall be present for the oral portion of the examination and it shall be conducted on campus, unless there is an accepted arrangement that has been approved by the graduate program committee.
8. To attend in person and chair the dissertation defense, ensure its proper conduct as described above, and submit to the program director for the student's records all necessary grades, forms and other materials.

D.3: Responsibilities of the External Committee Member of a Dissertation Advisory Committee

1. External committee membership will entail the full responsibilities of other committee membership as specified in section E1 above, including being present at the final defense.
2. External committee members should bring specific disciplinary knowledge or research expertise to the committee.
3. External committee members may be appointed from outside of the university or outside of the college (if the committee is for a college-wide program). The external committee member may not be affiliated in any way with the department of the committee, such as through joint or secondary joint appointments.
4. Graduate faculty scholars are external members.

E.1: Exceptions ~~to This Document~~

~~Appeal for E~~exceptions ~~to any part of this document shall may~~ be referred made at the discretion of to the Vice Provost and Dean of the College of Graduate Studies.
